AKVIS Sketch 23.0: New Maestro Style of Photo to Sketch Conversion

April 23, 2020 – AKVIS announces the major update of AKVIS Sketch, photo to drawing software. Version 23.0 presents a breakthrough technology in digital art: the brand new Maestro style of photo to sketch conversion. The update also offers enhanced color processing in the Classic style, some interface and performance improvements, and other changes.

AKVIS Sketch is the leading and widespread photo to drawing software with an extensive range of creative features. The program makes photos look like real drawings, creates black and white pencil sketches and color artworks. With the new features, the software became even more effective and captivating and will foster everyone's creativity!

Now the program offers these conversion styles: Classic, Artistic, and Maestro, - each with a series of presets. Each style has its own benefits and allows creating drawings for every taste.

The brand new Maestro style introduced in Version 23.0 harmoniously combines exquisite technique and artistry. It lets users make vivid and expressive works of art with masterly hatching and clear and natural contours, and without excessive "photographic" detail. The new style provides an endless source of artistic inspiration.

Also, in the Classic style, that has already won the recognition of professional and home users, creating color drawings has been improved. In the recent version of Sketch, colors are more close to the original color range. Additionally, the updated version offers interface and performance improvements, support for more RAW files, and better program's stability.
